

Brett Stuart
Global AgriTrends, President

Brett Stuart is a founder and the president of Global AgriTrends. The firm was organized in 2006 and provides global market research, analysis and forecasting to a variety of clients around the world. He was formerly the lead economist for the U.S. Meat Export Federation. He has conducted numerous research and analysis projects in the global meat trade area as well as advising government representatives on international trade issues. Mr. Stuart has conducted on-the-ground agriculture industry research for a variety of clients on six continents.

Brett was raised on a cattle ranch operating in Utah and Wyoming and has previously worked as a controller in the agriculture industry.

He received an undergraduate degree in accounting at Utah State University and a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Nebraska. He and his wife Amanda live on a farm near Preston, Idaho with their 5 children.