

Jackson Takach

Jackson Takach, the Chief Economist and Head of Strategy, Research, and Analytics at Farmer Mac, is a Kentucky native whose strong ties to agriculture began while growing up in the rural town of Scottsville. He joined the Farmer Mac team in 2005, and has worked in the strategy, research, credit, and underwriting departments. Jackson is the lead author and creator of The Feed, Farmer Mac's quarterly publication on the agricultural sector, and he regularly presents to lenders, producers, and industry experts throughout the year. He holds a Bachelor's degree in economics from Centre College, a Master's degree in agricultural economics from Purdue University, as well as a Master's of Business Administration and a Master's degree in finance from Indiana University's Kelley School of Business. He has also been a CFA charterholder since 2012.
