ReGrained, Co-founder and Chief Grain Officer

Dan Kurzrock is the co-founder and "Chief Grain Officer" of ReGrained. ReGrained is an ingredient company and packaged foods innovator that rescues and upcycles of high-protein high-fiber grain generated by the brewing industry into SuperGrain+. SuperGrain+ is versatile ingredient that produces delicious, nutritious, and highly functional foods. Dan created ReGrained out of his hobby for homebrewing, where he first discovered that so-called "spent" grain could be given a delicious second life as food. He is now obsessed with better aligning the food we eat with the planet we love through Edible Upcycling.
